

GRADUATE DEGREE PROGRAM IN ECOLOGY
COLORADO STATE UNIVERSITY

March 11th, 2019

From Colleen

Reminder that this week our last Visiting Distinguished Ecologist, Jessica Gurevitch, will be here. Details in the GDPE section. We look forward to you joining us. If you are able to join the evening reception on Mar. 13, we would especially appreciate it. The reception for Jim Grace was under-attended, and these evening receptions are great opportunities to interact with our Distinguished Ecologists in an informal setting.

We have also opened nominations for 2019-2020 DE speakers. Please participate in the nomination process. This is a great opportunity to bring world-class ecologists to CSU! Details in the GDPE section.

Lots of GDPE news this week! Be sure to check out the GDPE section for highlights.

GDPE

Mar. 12 4-5 pm Johnson 132: RMAIS Info Session(Research Mentoring to Advance Inclusivity in STEM). Interested in participating in RMAIS this year? Come and learn the details of what is happening in Spring and Summer 2019. You do not need to have RMAIS funding to participate. All are welcome.

Mar. 13-14, 4-5 pm LSC North Ballroom. Jessica Gurevitch, Visiting Distinguished Ecologist Seminars. Mixer at 3:30 pm. Mar. 13: "Landscape demography: Heterogeneity and scale in the expansion, stability and extinction of populations and: A few words about the potential ecological impacts of geoen지니어ing" Mar. 14: "Thinking in meta-analysis: Practical and Philosophical Issues. Reception at host Ruth Hufbauer's house following the Mar. 13 reception. If you would like to speak to Prof. Gurevitch about your own work, please contact Ruth Hufbauer to get on her schedule!

April 12: Nominations for the Distinguished Ecologist Series are open and due April 12. This includes our Resident DE (Fall - faculty nominate), Alum DE (Fall - grad students nominate), 2 Visiting DE (Spring - faculty or grad students nominate), and the Rising Star DE (Spring - faculty or grad students nominate). Please keep in mind GDPE's desire to host diverse DEs when nominating. See the email from GDPE on 3/8/19 for more details. Host responsibilities Nomination form

Opportunity for GDPE graduate students to give an Invited Talk on Conservation Biology at University of Colorado - Colorado Springs. This is an opportunity arising from FRSES. Talk would need to be a MW in April. Contact Colleen Webb if interested for more info.

Save the date for our upcoming RMAIS speaker Corrine Moss-Racusin, on May. 1.

GDPE is pleased to announce the recipients of the Spring 2019 GDPE Small Research Grants. Thank you to the faculty and student reviewers for your valuable service and feedback. Congratulations to our awardees:

- Leena Vilonen (PhD student with Mendy Smith, BIO) for her proposal on microbial community ecology
- Bethany Avera (PhD student with Francesca Cotrufo, SCS) for her proposal, "Does decomposing fungal necromass contribute efficiently to the formation of soil organic matter?"

In addition, we are pleased to announce our 2019 RMAIS Fellows who received funding:

- Eliza Clark (PhD student with Ruth Hufbauer, BSPM) for her proposal, "Local adaptation of thermal tolerance in a range expanding biocontrol agent"
- Dani Lin-Hunter (PhD student with Meena Balgopal, BIO) for her proposal, "Academic Scientists' Perceptions of Citizen Science Volunteer Contributions"
- Scott Bradfield (PhD student with Troy Ocheltree, FRS) for his proposal, "How to survive the Dust Bowl: An investigation into how a small grass was capable of surviving the biggest drought in the history of the United States"
- Marcel Jardeleza (MS student with Ruth Hufbauer, BSPM) for her proposal, "The roles of adaptation and phenotypic plasticity in morphology and performance in a novel habitat"
- Maria Chavez (PhD student with Mark Uchanski, HORT) for her proposal, "Dairy ecology and alternative manure management for use on horticultural farms"

GDPE has opened our call for our Spring 2019 Travel Grants. Please refer to the email from March 7 for details or contact Jennifer Neuwald with questions. The due date for applications and advisor support letters is Monday, March 25.

GDPE is soliciting nominations for the Fall 2019/Spring 2020 PRSE Recruitment Fellowships. This one-time award is meant to help faculty recruit top candidates to our program. Faculty, please refer to the email from March 8 for details or contact Jennifer Neuwald with questions. Nominations will be reviewed on a rolling-basis.

Let us know if you've gotten a paper accepted, won an award, or received a grant by emailing Jennifer Neuwald.
