From your GDPE Admin Team

Welcome to 2020 everyone - For those of you back on campus already, enjoy the quiet of no undergraduates! And for those still away, keep enjoying your break.

With the spring semester upon us, we do have a couple of important reminders regarding registration.

ECOL592: Please double check that you register for the correct credit hours, since these many vary from class to class. You can check on the GDPE website here, or refer to the "GDPE Course Information" section below.

ECOL695: If you intend to take an Independent Study, please make sure to complete the application PRIOR to registering. You can find that on our website here.

ECOL698 & 699/799: Please add the credits you intend to take as soon as possible! You will need a department override after Jan 21 and will be charged a $50.00 late registration fee for first class and Continuous Registration. Students who do not register by this date and request an override may experience further delays as our admin team will be very busy with applications during this time. Please help us help you by registering now.

Continuous Registration (CR): If you are not taking regular credits this semester, but need to maintain your student status, please make sure to register for CR. You can find the CRN here (Spring = 15551).

note: if you are graduating this semester, you must register for at least one credit or CR.

ECOLOGY & CSU EVENTS

Upcoming:

1/13-1/17 Ground Beetle ID Workshop Are you interested in working with Carabidae for your research? Or do you have vials of Carabidae, but need help with species identification? If so, check out the upcoming ground beetle identification workshop at Ohio State University! This 5-day workshop will provide a general overview of ground beetle species identification and natural history, with a focus on North American taxa. The workshop will consist of lectures and laboratory identifications, with strong emphasis placed on the use of dichotomous keys. More info

Funding for SoGES Global Challenges Research Teams and Resident Fellows

Global Challenges Research Teams (GCRTs) The GCRT program provides seed funding to foster new, creative approaches to complex sustainability problems and enable initial steps towards lasting solutions. Proposals should be highly innovative and exploratory in both their research questions and approach. New this year, SoGES seeks two-year proposals that will each receive $30,000 total to enable teams to better execute planned work and articulate accomplishments. Deadline: January 31, 2020 Global Challenge Research Team Info

Resident Fellows

The School is seeking applications for CSU faculty Resident Fellows from diverse perspectives, career stages, and approaches at CSU. The Resident Fellow program allows CSU faculty time and bandwidth to accelerate creative approaches and ideas for addressing complex sustainability problems. The program provides time and funds to faculty and researchers so that they may spend focused effort on novel sustainability scholarship, or new and creative approaches to existing work.
