Happy Monday, GDPE Community!

I want to encourage grad students to participate in the Graduate Student Showcase on Nov. 16. It's a great opportunity to hone your presentation skills here locally and also be eligible for some of the 19k in prize money. You'll also get to see what folks from many different disciplines do.

Speaking of presentations, defense season is coming up. Please come out and support your fellow students! See below for upcoming dates.

I hope you're all making the most out of these lovely fall days and crisp evenings.

Best,
Ruth
